

Virginia Commonwealth University Tax-Deferred Annuity Plan

Invest in your retirement—and yourself—today, with help from the VCU Tax-Deferred Annuity Plan and Fidelity.

Invest some of what you earn today for what you plan to accomplish tomorrow.

Your Employer offers outstanding convenience and a variety of investment options. Take a look and see what a difference enrolling in the Plan could make in achieving your goals.

Benefit from:

Convenience. Your contributions are automatically deducted regularly from your paycheck.

Tax savings now. Your pretax contributions are deducted from your pay before income taxes are taken out. This means that you can actually lower the amount of current income taxes you pay each period. It could mean more money in your take-home pay versus saving money in a taxable account.

Tax-deferred savings opportunities. You pay no taxes on any pretax earnings until you withdraw them from your account, enabling you to keep more of your money working for you now.

Portability. You can roll over eligible savings from a previous employer into this Plan. You can also take your plan vested account balance with you if you leave the company.

Investment options. You have the flexibility to select from investment options that range from more conservative to more aggressive, making it easy for you to develop a well-diversified investment portfolio.

To learn more about what your plan offers, see "Frequently asked questions about your plan" later in this guide.

Frequently asked questions about your plan.

Here are answers to questions you may have about the key features, benefits, and rules of your plan.

When can I enroll in the Plan?

There is no waiting period. You can enroll in the Plan at any time.

How do I enroll in the Plan?

Follow the detailed instructions on the "Enroll today" page after this FAQ section to enroll in the Tax-Deferred Annuity Plan.

How much can I contribute?

Through automatic payroll deduction, you can contribute a minimum of $10 per paycheck on a pretax basis but no more than the annual IRS dollar limit, up to the annual IRS dollar limits. The Internal Revenue Code provides that the combined annual limit for total Plan contributions is 100% of your W2 compensation or $69,000, whichever is less.

What is the IRS contribution limit?

The IRS contribution limit for 2024 is $23,000.

When is my enrollment effective?

Your enrollment becomes effective once you complete the VCU TDA/403(b) SRA to elect a deferral dollar amount, which initiates deduction of your contributions from your pay. Complete and return the form to Human Resources. These salary deductions will generally begin with your next pay period after we receive your enrollment information, or as soon as administratively possible.

How do I designate my beneficiary?

If you have not already selected your beneficiaries, or if you have experienced a lifechanging event such as a marriage, divorce, birth of a child, or a death in the family, it's time to consider your beneficiary designations. Fidelity's Online Beneficiaries Service offers a straightforward, convenient process that takes just minutes. To make your elections, click on the "Profile" link, then select "Beneficiaries" and follow the online instructions.

What are my investment options?

To help you meet your investment goals, the Plan offers you a range of options. You can select a mix of investment options that best suits your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. The 178 investment options available through the Plan include conservative, moderately conservative, and aggressive funds. A complete description of the Plan's investment options and their performance, as well as planning tools to help you choose an appropriate mix, are available online.

What if I don't make an investment election?

We encourage you to take an active role in the VCU Tax-Deferred Annuity Plan and choose investment options that best suit your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. If you do not select specific investment options in the Plan, your contributions will be invested in the Fidelity Freedom® Fund - Class K6 with the target retirement date closest to the year you might retire, based on your current age and assuming a retirement age of 65, at the direction of Virginia Commonwealth University.

If no date of birth or an invalid date of birth is on file at Fidelity, your contributions may be invested in the Fidelity Freedom® Income Fund Class K6. More information about the Fidelity Freedom® Fund - Class K6 options can be found online.

Target Date Funds are an asset mix of stocks, bonds and other investments that automatically becomes more conservative as the fund approaches its target retirement date and beyond. Principal invested is not guaranteed.

What catch-up contribution can I make?

If you have reached age 50 or will reach 50 during the calendar year January 1 – December 31 and are making the maximum plan or IRS contribution, you may make an additional catch-up contribution each pay period. The maximum annual catch-up contribution is $7,500. Going forward, catch-up contribution limits will be subject to cost of living adjustments (COLAs) in $500 increments.

If you have 15 years or more of work experience and have contributed less than $5,000 a year, on average, to your retirement savings plan, you may be able to make additional catch-up contributions to your Plan, allowing you to contribute up to a maximum of $3,000 per year, up to a maximum lifetime benefit of $15,000.

When am I vested?

You are always 100% vested in your own contributions to the VCU Tax-Deferred Annuity Plan.

Can I take a loan from my account?

No, the Plan currently does not allow loans to be processed from your Fidelity account.

Can I take withdrawals from my account?

Withdrawals from the Plan are generally permitted when you terminate your employment, retire, reach age 59½, become permanently disabled, or have severe financial hardship as defined by your Plan.

Can I move money from another retirement plan into my account in the VCU Tax-Deferred Annuity Plan?

You are permitted to roll over eligible pretax contributions from another 401(k) plan, 401(a) plan, 403(b) plan, or a governmental 457(b) retirement plan account, or eligible pretax contributions from conduit Individual Retirement Accounts (rollover IRAs) and certain non-conduit individual retirement accounts (traditional IRAs, Simplified Employee Pension plans, and "SIMPLE" IRA distributions made more than two years from the date you first participated in the SIMPLE IRA). A conduit IRA is one that contains only money rolled over from an employer sponsored retirement plan that has not been mixed with regular IRA contributions.

Be sure to consider all your available options and the applicable fees and features of each before moving your retirement assets.

Target date investments are generally designed for investors expecting to retire around the year indicated in each investment's name. The investments are managed to gradually become more conservative over time. The investment risks of each target date investment change over time as its asset allocation changes. They are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high yield, small cap and foreign securities. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after their target dates.

The chart below lists the assigned fund the VCU Tax-Deferred Annuity Plan believes will best fit your diversification needs should you not select an investment option.

This spectrum, with the exception of the Domestic Equity category, is based on Fidelity's analysis of the characteristics of the general investment categories and not on the actual investment options and their holdings, which can change frequently. Investment options in the Domestic Equity category are based on the options' Morningstar categories as of 11/30/2023. There may be a number of funds in each category and each may have a significantly different risk profile as compared to other funds within that category as well as compared to funds in other categories on the spectrum. Morningstar categories are based on a fund's style as measured by its underlying portfolio holdings over the past three years and may change at any time. These style calculations do not represent the investment options' objectives and do not predict the investment options future styles. Investment options are listed in alphabetical order within each investment category. Risk associated with the investment options can vary significantly within each particular investment category and the relative risk of categories may change under certain economic conditions. For a more complete discussion of risk associated with the mutual fund options, please read the prospectuses before making your investment decisions. Fidelity® Government Cash Reserves

VRS Code: 000055

Fund Objective: Seeks as high a level of current income as is consistent with the preservation of capital and liquidity.

Fund Strategy: The Adviser normally invests at least 99.5% of the fund's total assets in cash, U.S. Government securities and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash or government securities). Certain issuers of U.S. Government securities are sponsored or chartered by Congress but their securities are neither issued nor guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury. Investing in compliance with industry-standard regulatory requirements for money market funds for the quality, maturity, liquidity and diversification of investments. The Adviser stresses maintaining a stable $1.00 share price, liquidity, and income. In addition the Adviser normally invests at least 80% of the fund's assets in U.S. Government securities and repurchase agreements for those securities.

Fund Risk: You could lose money by investing in the fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Fidelity Investments and its affiliates, the fund's sponsor, have no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time. Interest rate increases can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. A decline in the credit quality of an issuer or a provider of credit support or a maturity-shortening structure for a security can cause the price of a money market security to decrease.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who has a low tolerance for investment risk and who wishes to keep the value of his or her investment relatively stable.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her bond and stock fund holdings in order to reach a particular asset allocation.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- On December 1, 2015, this fund (formerly Fidelity[®] Cash Reserves) was approved to operate as a government fund with different investment policies. The historical performance may not represent its current investment policies.

Fidelity® Treasury Only Money Market Fund

VRS Code: 000415

Fund Objective: Seeks as high a level of current income as is consistent with the security of principal and liquidity.

Fund Strategy: The Adviser normally invests at least 99.5% of the fund's total assets in cash and U.S. Treasury securities. Potentially entering into reverse repurchase agreements. Normally investing in securities whose interest is exempt from state and local income taxes. Investing in compliance with industry standard regulatory requirements for money market funds for the quality, maturity, liquidity and diversification of investments. The Adviser stresses maintaining a stable $1.00 share price, liquidity, and income. In addition, the Adviser normally invests at least 80% of the fund's assets in U.S. Treasury securities.

Fund Risk: You could lose money by investing in the fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Fidelity Investments and its affiliates, the fund's sponsor, have no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time. Interest rate increases can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. A decline in the credit quality of an issuer or a provider of credit support or a maturity-shortening structure for a security can cause the price of a money market security to decrease.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who has a low tolerance for investment risk and who wishes to keep the value of his or her investment relatively stable.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her bond and stock fund holdings in order to reach a particular asset allocation.

Fidelity® Capital & Income Fund

VRS Code: 000038

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide a combination of income and capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Investing in equity and debt securities, including defaulted securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities. Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition.

Fund Risk: Interest rate increases can cause the price of a debt security to decrease. Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a bond fund that provides the potential for both current income and share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Fidelity® Conservative Income Bond Fund

VRS Code: 002268

Fund Objective: The fund seeks to obtain a high level of current income consistent with preservation of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in U.S. dollar-denominated money market and high quality investment-grade debt securities of all types, and repurchase agreements for those securities. Normally investing in securities with a maximum maturity of four years. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of one year or less. Potentially investing in reverse repurchase agreements. Investing more than 25% of total assets in the financial services industries. Investing in both domestic and foreign issuers.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities can be more volatile than U.S. markets due to increased risks of adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market or economic developments. Changes in government regulation, interest rates and economic downturns can have a significant effect on issuers in the financial services sector, including the price of their securities or their ability to meet their payment obligations. Prepayment of principal prior to a security's maturity can cause greater price volatility if interest rates change. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) which may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The fund is not a money market fund and will have a fluctuating NAV.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- Fidelity is voluntarily reimbursing a portion of the fund's expenses. If Fidelity had not, the returns would have been lower.
- As of April 1, 2023, this fund changed its Share Class from Fidelity® Conservative Income Bond Fund Institutional Class.

Fidelity® Corporate Bond Fund

VRS Code: 002208

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in corporate bonds and other corporate debt securities and repurchase agreements for those securities. Investing in lower-quality debt securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including derivatives.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and bond funds entail interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Bond funds also entail the risk of issuer or counterparty default, issuer credit risk, and inflation risk. The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks. Investments in mortgage securities are subject to the risk that principal will be repaid prior to maturity. As a result, when interest rates decline, gains may be reduced, and when interest rates rise, losses may be greater. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a potentially more conservative investment option.

Fidelity® Floating Rate High Income Fund

VRS Code: 000814

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in floating rate loans, which are often lower-quality debt securities, and other floating rate debt securities. Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition. Investing in money market and investment grade debt securities, and repurchase agreements.

Fund Risk: Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Floating rate loans may not be fully collateralized and therefore may decline significantly in value. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a fixed-income fund that generally allows for more adjustments to income based on changing interest rates than traditional bond funds generally do.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Focused High Income Fund

VRS Code: 001366

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of income. The fund may also seek capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in income producing debt securities, preferred stocks, and convertible securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities. Normally investing primarily in securities rated BB by S&P, Ba by Moody's, comparably rated by at least one nationally recognized credit rating agency, or, if unrated, considered by FMR to be of comparable quality. Potentially investing in securities that have a higher or lower credit quality. Potentially investing in non-income producing securities, including defaulted securities and common stocks.

Fund Risk: Interest rate increases can cause the price of a debt security to decrease. Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Fidelity® Global Credit Fund

VRS Code: 002423

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Investing in securities issued throughout the world, including securities of issuers located in emerging markets. Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in debt securities of all types and repurchase agreements for those securities. Normally investing primarily in investment-grade debt securities. Allocating investments across different market sectors and maturities, as well as across different countries and regions. Investing up to 20% of the fund's assets in lower-quality debt securities. Hedging the fund's foreign currency exposures utilizing forward foreign currency exchange contracts. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Lower-quality debt securities involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. Although a forward foreign currency exchange contract is used to reduce or hedge a fund's exposure to changes in the value of the currency, suitable hedging transactions may not be available in all circumstances, may not be successful, and may eliminate any chance for the fund to benefit from favorable fluctuations in relevant foreign currencies.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with international bond investments and who can tolerate the greater risks associated with foreign investments.

Fidelity® Global High Income Fund

VRS Code: 002297

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income. Growth of capital may also be considered.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in income producing debt securities, preferred stocks, and convertible securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities, of U.S. and non-U.S. issuers, including emerging market countries. Potentially investing in non-income producing securities, including defaulted securities and common stocks. Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition. Allocating investments across different countries and regions. Investing in securities issued anywhere in the world, including potentially significant investments in U.S. issuers. Using a base neutral mix of approximately 60% U.S. high yield, 20% emerging markets debt, 15% European high yield, and 5% Asian high yield. Adjusting allocation among markets within the following ranges: U.S. high yield (40%-80%); emerging markets debt (5%-35%); European high yield (0%-30%); and Asian high yield (0%-10%). Analyzing an issuer using fundamental factors (e.g., financial condition, earnings outlook, and strategy) and evaluating each security's current price relative to estimated long-term value to select investments.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Fidelity® High Income Fund

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income. Growth of capital may also be considered.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in income-producing debt securities, preferred stocks, and convertible securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities. Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition. Potentially investing in non-income producing securities, including defaulted securities and common stocks.

Fund Risk: The fund's yield and share price change daily and are based on changes in interest rates and market conditions, and in response to other economic, political, or financial developments. Foreign markets, particularly emerging markets can be more volatile than the U.S. market due to increased risks of adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments and can perform differently from the U.S. market. In general, bond prices rise when interest rates fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities. The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities which generally offer higher yields, and carry more risk. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Fidelity® Inflation-Protected Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 002418

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of the inflation-protected sector of the United States Treasury market.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in inflation-protected debt securities included in the Bloomberg U.S. Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS) Index (Series-L). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Increases in real interest rates can cause the price of inflation-protected debt securities to decrease. Interest payments on inflation-protected debt securities can be unpredictable. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income and who can tolerate more frequent changes in the size of income distributions than those usually found with more conservative bond funds.
- Someone who is seeking to supplement his or her core fixed-income holdings with a bond investment that is tied to changes in inflation.

- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.

Fidelity® Long-Term Treasury Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 003047

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Bloomberg U.S. Long Treasury Index. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of 10 years or more. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.

Fund Risk: Bond funds contain interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall); the risk of issuer default; and inflation risk. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking a fund that invests primarily in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies or instrumentalities.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio but who can tolerate higher risk.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The Bloomberg Long-Term Treasury Index is an unmanaged index comprised of fixed-income securities with various maturities greater than 10 years. Unless otherwise noted, index returns reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any, but do not reflect fees, brokerage commissions or other expenses of investing. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Fidelity® Mortgage Securities Fund

VRS Code: 000040

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income, consistent with prudent investment risk. In seeking current income, the fund may also consider the potential for capital gain.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in investment-grade mortgage-related securities (those of medium and high quality) and repurchase agreements for those securities. Investing in lower-quality debt securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.

Fund Risk: Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. Mortgage securities are subject to prepayment risk, which can limit gains due to declining interest rates, and increase losses due to rising rates. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

• This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® New Markets Income Fund

VRS Code: 000331

Fund Objective: Seeks high current income. As a secondary objective, the fund seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of issuers in emerging markets and other investments that are tied economically to emerging markets. Normally investing primarily in debt securities of issues in emerging markets. Potentially investing in other types of securities, including equity securities of emerging market issuers, debt securities of non-emerging market foreign issuers, and lower quality debt securities of U.S. issuers.

Fund Risk: Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with international bond investments and who can tolerate the greater risks associated with foreign investments.

Fidelity® Short Duration High Income Fund

VRS Code: 002580

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income. The fund may also seek capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in income producing debt securities, preferred stocks, and convertible securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities. Normally investing primarily in securities rated BB or B by Standard & Poor's (S&P), Ba or B by Moody's Investors Service (Moody's), comparably rated by at least one nationally recognized credit rating agency, or, if unrated, considered by Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (FMR) to be of comparable quality. Potentially investing in non-income producing securities, including defaulted securities and common stocks. Investing in companies in troubled or uncertain financial condition. Normally maintaining an average duration of three years or less. Investing in floating rate loans, which are often lower-quality debt securities, and other floating rate securities. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of each issuer's financial condition and industry position and market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Floating rate loans may not be fully collateralized and therefore may decline significantly in value. Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a bond fund that provides the potential for both current income and share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration.

Fidelity® Short-Term Bond Fund

VRS Code: 000450

Fund Objective: Seeks to obtain a high level of current income consistent with preservation of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in investment-grade debt securities (those of medium and high quality) of all types and repurchase agreements for those securities. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity between three years or less. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.

Fund Risk: Bond funds entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Fidelity® Short-Term Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 003041

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income consistent with preservation of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Bloomberg U.S. 1-5 Year Government/ Credit Bond Index, a market value-weighted index of fixed-rate investment-grade debt securities with maturities from one to five years from the U.S. Treasury, U.S. Government-Related, and U.S. Corporate Indexes. Normally maintaining a dollar-weighted average maturity of three years or less. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg U.S. 1-5 Year Government/Credit Bond Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. Fidelity® Strategic Income Fund

VRS Code: 003082

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income. The fund may also seek capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds) by allocating assets among four general investment categories: high yield securities, U.S. Government and investment-grade securities, emerging market securities, and foreign developed market securities. The fund uses a neutral mix of approximately 45% high yield, 30% U.S. Government and investment-grade, 15% emerging markets, and 10% foreign developed markets. Hedging the fund's foreign currency exposures utilizing forward foreign currency exchange contracts although not all of the fund's foreign currency exposure will be hedged. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Although a forward foreign currency exchange contract is used to reduce or hedge a fund's exposure to changes in the value of the currency, suitable hedging transactions may not be available, may not be successful, and may eliminate any benefits to the fund from favorable foreign currency fluctuations. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone looking for a fund investing in a mix of bonds that range from conservative to high risk and who can tolerate the risks associated with fixed-income investments.

Footnotes:

Allocating the fund's assets among stocks, bonds, and short-term and money market instruments, either through direct investment or by investing in Fidelity central funds that hold such investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer or counterparty default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks of which are magnified in emerging markets. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Fidelity® Balanced Fund Class K

VRS Code: 002077

Fund Objective: Seeks income and capital growth consistent with reasonable risk.

Fund Strategy: Investing approximately 60% of assets in stocks and other equity securities and the remainder in bonds and other debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities, when its outlook is neutral. Investing at least 25% of total assets in fixed-income senior securities (including debt securities and preferred stock.) Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- On May 9, 2008, an initial offering of the retirement (K) class took place. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of the non-K, non-advisor class. Had K class expenses been reflected in the returns shown, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Convertible Securities Fund

VRS Code: 000308

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in convertible securities, which are often lower-quality debt securities and perform more like a stock when the underlying share price is high and more like a bond when the underlying share price is low. Potentially investing in other types of securities, including common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement core bond holdings with an investment that has both bond and stock characteristics and who can accept more volatility than is generally expected with conservative bond funds.
- Someone who wants an investment that seeks the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who can accept the volatility of the stock and bond markets.

Fidelity® Multi-Asset Index Fund

VRS Code: 000355

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return.

Fund Strategy: Investing in a combination of seven Fidelity stock and bond index funds (underlying Fidelity funds) using an asset allocation strategy designed for investors seeking a broadly diversified, index-based investment. The Fidelity Multi-Asset Index Fund currently may invest in four Fidelity stock index funds (U.S. and international) and three Fidelity bond index funds (U.S. investment grade, U.S. long-term treasury, and international)) to achieve the fund's desired asset allocation.

Fund Risk: Many factors affect Multi-Asset Index's performance. Multi-Asset Index's share price changes daily based on the performance of the underlying Fidelity funds in which it invests. The ability of Multi-Asset Index to meet its investment objective is directly related to its target asset allocation among the underlying Fidelity funds and the ability of those funds to meet their investment objectives. The following factors can significantly affect Multi-Asset Index's performance: stock market volatility, interest rate change, foreign exposure including exposure to emerging markets, prepayment, issuer specific changes, mid cap investing and small cap investing.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

- Fidelity is voluntarily reimbursing a portion of the fund's expenses. If Fidelity had not, the returns would have been lower.

Fidelity® Puritan® Fund Class K

VRS Code: 002100

Fund Objective: Seeks income and capital growth consistent with reasonable risk.

Fund Strategy: Investing approximately 60% of assets in stocks and other equity securities and the remainder in bonds and other debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities, when its outlook is neutral. Investing at least 25% of total assets in fixed-income senior securities (including debt securities and preferred stock). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Fidelity® Strategic Dividend & Income® Fund

VRS Code: 001329

Fund Objective: Seeks reasonable income. The fund will also consider the potential for capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in equity securities by allocating assets among four general investment categories: common stocks, REITs and other real estate related investments, convertible securities, and preferred stocks. The fund uses a neutral mix of approximately 50% common stocks, 15% REITs and other real estate related investments, 15% convertible securities, and 20% preferred stocks. Investing the fund's assets with a focus on equity securities that pay current dividends and show potential for capital appreciation, which tends to lead to investments in "value" stocks in the common stock category. Potentially investing in other types of equity securities and debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities (those of less than investment-grade quality, also referred to as high yield debt securities or junk bonds). Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

Fidelity® Strategic Real Return Fund

VRS Code: 001505

Fund Objective: Seeks real return consistent with reasonable investment risk.

Fund Strategy: Allocating the fund's assets among four general investment categories, using a neutral mix of approximately 25% inflation-protected debt securities, 25% floating-rate loans, 30% commodity-linked derivative instruments and related investments, and 20% REITs and other real estate related investments. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Analyzing a security's structural features and current pricing, its issuer's potential for success, and the credit, currency, and economic risks of the security and its issuer to select investments. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund Risk: Stock markets, particularly foreign markets, are volatile and can be affected by adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Floating rate loans may not be fully collateralized and therefore may decline significantly in value. A floating rate loan may not be fully collateralized which may cause the loan to decline significantly in value. A floating rate loan is generally subject to restrictions on resale. Difficulty in selling a floating rate loan may result in a loss. Interest rate increases can cause the price of a debt security to decrease. Increases in real interest rates can cause the price of inflationprotected debt securities to decrease. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Commodity-linked investments can be more volatile and less liquid than the underlying instruments or measures and their value may be affected by the performance of the overall commodities baskets as well as weather, tax, and other regulatory developments. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risks. Passive Management Risk. A passive investment strategy attempts to track the performance of an unmanaged index of securities, regardless of the current or projected performance of the index or of the actual securities included in the index. This differs from an actively managed strategy, which typically seeks to outperform a benchmark index. As a result, the performance could be lower than actively managed strategies that may shift their portfolio assets to take advantage of market opportunities or lessen the impact of a market decline or a decline in the value of one or more issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Fidelity® Blue Chip Growth K6 Fund

VRS Code: 002945

Fund Objective: Seeks growth of capital over the long term.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in blue chip companies* (companies that, in FMR's view, are well-known, well-established and well-capitalized), which generally have large or medium market capitalizations. Investing in companies that FMR believes have above-average growth potential (stocks of these companies are often called "growth" stocks). Investing in securities of domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. "Growth" stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- · Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Fidelity® Founders Fund

VRS Code: 003336

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in equity securities of founder-involved companies. Founder-involved companies are those for which, at the time of the fund's initial purchase, a founder is a member of the senior management team or the company's board of directors. When evaluating companies, the Adviser also takes into consideration a founder's personal or family share ownership in the company. Using quantitative analysis to evaluate growth potential, valuation, liquidity, and investment risk, along with fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition, its industry position, and market and economic conditions to select investments. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Investing in securities of domestic and foreign issuers.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Securities selected using quantitative analysis can perform differently from the market as a whole. The Adviser's applications of the founder-involved strategy may not achieve its intended results and the fund could underperform the market as a whole.

Fidelity® Growth & Income Portfolio - Class K

VRS Code: 002089

Fund Objective: Seeks a high total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing a majority of assets in common stocks with a focus on those that pay current dividends and show potential for capital appreciation. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Potentially investing in bonds, including lower-quality debt securities, as well as stocks that are not currently paying dividends, but offer prospects for future income or capital appreciation.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fidelity® Large Cap Growth Index Fund

VRS Code: 002826

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of large capitalization U.S. companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell 1000 Growth Index (Index), which is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the performance of the large-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity market. Lending securities to earn income for the fund. The fund may operate as a non-diversified fund, as defined under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (1940 Act), to the approximate extent the Index is non-diversified. The fund may therefore operate as non-diversified solely as a result of a change in relative market capitalization or index weighting of one or more constituents of the Index.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Fund and index performance may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with index additions and deletions.

- The S&P 500[®] Index is a registered service mark of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc., and has been licensed for use by Fidelity Distributors Company LLC and its affiliates. It is an unmanaged index of the common stock prices of 500 widely held U.S. stocks that includes the reinvestment of dividends.
- The Russell 1000[®] Index is an unmanaged market capitalization-weighted index measuring the performance of the 1,000 largest companies in the Russell 3000[®] Index and is an appropriate index for broad-based large-cap funds.

Fidelity® Large Cap Value Index Fund

VRS Code: 002830

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of large capitalization U.S. companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell 1000 Value Index, which is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the performance of the large-cap value segment of the U.S. equity market. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Fund and index performance may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with index additions and deletions.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.

Fidelity® Leveraged Company Stock Fund Class K

VRS Code: 002094

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in stocks. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Normally investing primarily in common stocks of leveraged companies (companies that issue lower-quality debt and other companies with leveraged capital structures).

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Leverage can magnify the impact of adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments on a company. In the event of bankruptcy, a company's creditors take precedence over the company's stockholders. Although the companies that the fund invests in may be highly leveraged, the fund itself does not use leverage as an investment strategy.

Fidelity® Low-Priced Stock Fund Class K

VRS Code: 002095

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in low-priced stocks (those priced at or below $35 per share or with an earnings yield at or above the median for the Russell 2000 Index), which can lead to investments in small and medium-sized companies. Earnings yield represents a stock's earnings per share for the most recent 12-months divided by current price per share. Potentially investing in stocks not considered low-priced. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is comfortable with value-style investments and the potentially greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Fidelity® Mid Cap Growth Index Fund

VRS Code: 003403

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of mid-capitalization U.S. companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell Midcap Growth Index, which is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the performance of the mid-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity market. Using statistical sampling techniques based on such factors as capitalization, industry exposures, dividend yield, price/earnings (P/E) ratio, price/book (P/B) ratio, and earnings growth to attempt to replicate the returns of the Russell Midcap Growth Index using a smaller number of securities. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Investments in smaller companies may involve greater risks than those in larger, more well known companies. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Securities lending involves the risk that the borrower may fail to return the securities loaned in a timely manner or at all. Fund and index performance may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with index additions and deletions.

Fidelity® OTC K6 Portfolio

VRS Code: 003407

Fund Objective: The fund seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities principally traded on NASDAQ or an over-the-counter (OTC) market, which has more small and medium-sized companies than other markets. Investing more than 25% of total assets in the technology sector. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The technology industries can be significantly affected by obsolescence of existing technology, short product cycles, falling prices and profits, and competition from new markets, and general economic conditions. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers

Fidelity® Small Cap Growth Fund

VRS Code: 001388

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies with small market capitalizations (companies with market capitalizations similar to companies in the Russell 2000 Index or the Standard & Poor's Small Cap 600 Index). Investing in companies that FMR believes have above-average growth potential (stocks of these companies are often called 'growth' stocks). Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. 'Growth' stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Fidelity® Small Cap Growth Index Fund

VRS Code: 003405

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of small-capitalization U.S. companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell 2000 Growth Index, which is a market capitalization-weighted index designed to measure the performance of the small-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity market. Using statistical sampling techniques based on such factors as capitalization, industry exposures, dividend yield, price/earnings (P/E) ratio, price/book (P/B) ratio, and earnings growth to attempt to replicate the returns of the Russell 2000 Growth Index using a smaller number of securities. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Investments in smaller companies may involve greater risks than those in larger, more well known companies. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Securities lending involves the risk that the borrower may fail to return the securities loaned in a timely manner or at all. Fund and index performance may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with index additions and deletions.

Fidelity® Stock Selector All Cap Fund Class K

VRS Code: 002101

Fund Objective: Seeks capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Investing the fund's assets in one or more central funds (central funds), which provide exposure to different sectors of the U.S. stock market. Through the central funds, investing in domestic and foreign issuers, and in "growth" and/or "value" stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. While the fund is diversified, the underlying sector central funds may be volatile because of their narrow concentration in specific industries.

Fidelity® Women's Leadership Fund

VRS Code: 003396

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in equity securities of companies that prioritize and advance women's leadership and development. Such companies include those that, at the time of initial purchase, (i) include a woman as a member of the senior management team, (ii) are governed by a board for which women represent at least one third of all directors, or (iii) in the Adviser's opinion, have adopted policies designed to attract, retain and promote women. Investing in securities of domestic and foreign issuers. Employing sustainable investing exclusion criteria to avoid investments in issuers that are directly engaged in, and/or derive significant revenue from, certain industries. At present, these include: civilian semi-automatic firearms; tobacco production, or bonds issued against the proceeds of tobacco settlements; for-profit prisons; controversial weapons (e.g. cluster munitions, land mines, biological/chemical weapons, blinding lasers, and incendiary weapons); and coal production and/or mining.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Fidelity® Emerging Markets Discovery Fund

VRS Code: 002374

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Focus on investing in smaller capitalization companies exposed to secular growth trends of ascendant emerging market domestic economies. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of issuers in emerging markets (countries that have an emerging stock market as defined by MSCI, countries or markets with low- to middle-income economies as classified by the World Bank, and other countries or markets with similar emerging characteristics) and other investments that are tied economically to emerging markets. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Focusing investments in small- and medium-sized companies, but also may invest substantially in larger companies. Allocating investments across different emerging market countries. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies.

Fidelity® Total Emerging Markets Fund

VRS Code: 002369

Fund Objective: Seeks income and capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Seeks to take advantage of disparate opportunities between emerging-market debt and emerging-market equity across countries/regions. Normally invests at least 80% of the fund's assets in securities of issuers in emerging markets (countries that have an emerging stock market as defined by MSCI, countries or markets with low- to middle-income economies as classified by the World Bank, and other countries or markets with similar emerging characteristics) and other investments that are tied economically to emerging markets. Normally investing approximately 60% of assets in stocks and other equity securities and the remainder in bonds and other debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities, when its outlook is neutral. Allocating the fund's assets across emerging markets sectors, using different Fidelity managers. Allocating investments across different emerging market countries. Analyzing a security's structural features and current pricing, trading opportunities, and the credit, currency, and economic risks of the security and its issuer to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Lower-quality debt securities involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer.

The ACWI ex US IMI defines the non-US equity asset class and covers 22 developed markets and 22 emerging markets. The IMI (Investable Market Index) combines large, mid & small capitalization equity offerings and thus, provides the broadest international exposure available. The index is unmanaged and should not be considered an investment. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Fidelity® Worldwide Fund

VRS Code: 000318

Fund Objective: Seeks growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Investing in securities issued anywhere in the world. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- · Someone who is seeking an investment that invests in both domestic and international markets.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and the generally higher degree of risk associated with international investments.

Footnotes

• This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Environment and Alternative Energy Fund

VRS Code: 000516

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in business activities related to alternative and renewable energy, energy efficiency, pollution control, water infrastructure, waste and recycling technologies, or other environmental support services. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Employing sustainable investing exclusion criteria to avoid investments in issuers that are directly engaged in, and/or derive significant revenue from, certain industries. At present, these include: civilian semi-automatic firearms; tobacco production, or bonds issued against the proceeds of tobacco settlements; for-profit prisons; controversial weapons (e.g. cluster munitions, land mines, biological/chemical weapons, blinding lasers, and incendiary weapons); and coal production and/or mining.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Application of FMR's ESG ratings process and/or its sustainable investing exclusion criteria may affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, sectors, regions, and countries and may affect the fund's performance depending on whether certain investments are in or out of favor. This process may result in the fund forgoing opportunities to buy certain securities when it might otherwise be advantageous to do so, or selling securities for ESG reasons when it might be otherwise disadvantageous for it to do so. Sector funds can be more volatile because of their narrow concentration in a specific industry. The environment and alternative energy industries can be significantly affected by government regulations and subsidies, changing supply and demand for traditional energy sources, and availability of funding for remedial cleanup efforts or development of new technologies, and can be subject to risks associated with hazardous materials. Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Prior to July 1, 2010, the fund was named Fidelity Select Environmental Portfolio, operated under certain different investment policies, and compared its performance to a different benchmark. The fund's historical performance may not represent its current investment policies.

Fidelity® Global Commodity Stock Fund

VRS Code: 002120

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in stocks of companies principally engaged in the energy, metals, and agriculture group of industries. Investing in securities issued anywhere in the world. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The energy, metals, and agriculture industries can be significantly affected by commodity prices and consumption, world events, import and export controls, worldwide competition, government regulations, and economic conditions. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Fidelity is voluntarily reimbursing a portion of the fund's expenses. If Fidelity had not, the returns would have been lower.

Fidelity® International Real Estate Fund

VRS Code: 001368

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in non-U.S. securities. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in the real estate industry and other real estate related investments. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings and is comfortable with the greater risk typically associated with investments tied to the value of holding, managing, and developing real estate.
- Someone who is willing to accept the lower diversification and potentially higher risk of investments concentrated in the real estate industry.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Fidelity is voluntarily reimbursing a portion of the fund's expenses. If Fidelity had not, the returns would have been lower.

Fidelity® Natural Resources Fund

VRS Code: 000514

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies that own or develop natural resources, or supply goods and services to such companies. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The natural resources industries can be significantly affected by events relating to international political and economic developments, energy conservation, the success of exploration projects, commodity prices, and tax and other government regulations.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

• This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Real Estate Income Fund

VRS Code: 000833

Fund Objective: Seeks higher than average income. As a secondary objective, the fund also seeks capital growth.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in the real estate industry and other real estate related investments. Normally investing primarily in preferred and common stocks of real estate investment trusts (REITs); debt securities of real estate entities; and commercial and other mortgage-backed securities, with an emphasis on lower-quality debt securities.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Real Estate Index Fund

VRS Code: 002355

Fund Objective: The fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of equity REITs and other real estate-related investments.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the MSCI US IMI Real Estate 25/25 Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as fees and expenses of the fund, transaction costs, sample selection, regulatory restrictions, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.

Fidelity® Real Estate Investment Portfolio

VRS Code: 000303

Fund Objective: Seeks above-average income and long-term capital growth, consistent with reasonable investment risk. The fund seeks to provide a yield that exceeds the composite yield of the S&P 500 Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in the real estate industry and other real estate related investments. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. Fidelity® Select Automotive Portfolio

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the manufacture, marketing or sale of automobiles, trucks, specialty vehicles, parts, tires, and related services. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The automotive industry is highly cyclical and can be significantly affected by labor relations and fluctuating component prices.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Select Banking Portfolio

VRS Code: 000507

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in banking. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The banking industry can be significantly affected by legislation that has reduced the separation between commercial and investment banking businesses, changed the laws governing capitalization requirements and the savings and loan industry, and increased competition. In addition, the banking industry can be significantly affected by changes in general economic conditions and interest rates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Fidelity® Select Biotechnology Portfolio

VRS Code: 000042

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the research, development, manufacture, and distribution of various biotechnological products, services, and processes and companies that benefit significantly from scientific and technological advances in biotechnology. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The biotechnology industry can be significantly affected by patent considerations, intense competition, rapid technological change and obsolescence, and government regulation, and revenue patterns can be erratic. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fidelity® Select Brokerage and Investment Management Portfolio

VRS Code: 000068

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in stock brokerage, commodity brokerage, investment banking, taxadvantaged investment or investment sales, investment management, or related investment advisory services. The fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in securities of companies principally engaged in the exchange of financial instruments, stock brokerage, commodity brokerage, investment banking, tax-advantaged investment or investment sales, investment management, or related investment advisory and financial decision support services. These companies may include, for example, investment management firms; institutions providing custody services; investment banks; brokerage and asset management firms; financial exchanges for securities, commodities, derivatives and other financial instruments; and other financial institutions primarily engaged in capital markets including providers of financial decision support tools, products, and ratings.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The enterprise technology services industry can be significantly affected by competitive pressures, such as technological developments, fixed-rate pricing, and the ability to attract and retain skilled employees, and the success of companies in the industry is subject to continued demand for enterprise technology services.

Fidelity® Select Financials Portfolio

VRS Code: 000066

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies that provide financial services to consumers and industry. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The financials industries are subject to extensive government regulation, can be subject to relatively rapid change due to increasingly blurred distinctions between service segments, and can be significantly affected by availability and cost of capital funds, changes in interest rates, the rate of corporate and consumer debt defaults, and price competition. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Fidelity® Select FinTech Portfolio

VRS Code: 000098

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies providing products and services associated with fintech. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Sector funds can be more volatile because of their narrow concentration in a specific industry. Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks. The home finance industry can be significantly affected by regulatory changes, interest rate movements, home mortgage demand, refinancing activity, and residential delinquency trends. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

The fund's historical performance may not represent its current investment policies.

Fidelity® Select Gold Portfolio

VRS Code: 000041

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in exploration, mining, processing, or dealing in gold, or to a lesser degree, in silver, platinum, diamonds, or other precious metals and minerals. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in gold-related activities, and in gold bullion or coins. Potentially investing in other precious metals, instruments whose value is linked to the price of precious metals, and securities of companies that manufacture and distribute precious metal and mineral products (such as jewelry, watches, and metal foil and leaf) and companies that invest in other companies engaged in gold and other precious metal and mineral-related activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The gold industry can be significantly affected by international monetary and political developments such as currency devaluations or revaluations, central bank movements, economic and social conditions within a country, trade imbalances, or trade or currency restrictions between countries, as well as supply and demand for gold and operational costs associated with mining. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Fidelity® Select Health Care Portfolio

VRS Code: 000063

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the design, manufacture, or sale of products or services used for or in connection with health care or medicine. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The health care industries are subject to government regulation and reimbursement rates, as well as government approval of products and services, which could have a significant effect on price and availability, and can be significantly affected by rapid obsolescence and patent expirations. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.

Fidelity® Select Health Care Services Portfolio

VRS Code: 000505

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the ownership or management of hospitals, nursing homes, health maintenance organizations, and other companies specializing in the delivery of health care services. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The medical delivery industry is subject to extensive government regulation and can be significantly affected by government reimbursement for medical expenses, rising costs of medical products and services, pricing pressure, and an increased emphasis on outpatient services.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.

Fidelity® Select Industrials Portfolio

VRS Code: 000515

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in the research, development, manufacture, distribution, supply, or sale of industrial products, services, or equipment. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Industrial industries can be significantly affected by general economic trends, changes in consumer sentiment and spending, commodity prices, legislation, government regulation and spending, import controls, worldwide competition, and liability for environmental damage, depletion of resources, and mandated expenditures for safety and pollution control. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because of its narrow concentration in a specific industry. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fidelity® Select Wireless Portfolio

VRS Code: 000963

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing primarily in companies engaged in activities relating to wireless communications services or products. Normally investing at least 80% assets in securities of companies principally engaged in these activities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: The value of the fund's domestic and foreign investments will vary from day to day in response to many factors. Stock values fluctuate in response to issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. You may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Investments in foreign securities, especially those in emerging markets, involve risks in addition to those of U.S. investments, including increased political and economic risk, as well as exposure to currency fluctuations. Because FMR concentrates the fund's investments in a particular industry, the fund's performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and could be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated funds and the market as a whole. The fund is considered non-diversified and can invest a greater portion of assets in securities of individual issuers than a diversified fund; thus changes in the market value of a single investment could cause greater fluctuations in share price than would occur in a more diversified fund. The wireless industry can be significantly affected by failure or delays in obtaining financing or regulatory approval, intense competition, product incompatibility, changing consumer preferences, rapid obsolescence, significant capital expenditures, and heavy debt burdens.

Fidelity® Telecom and Utilities Fund

VRS Code: 000311

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of telecom services and utility companies. Normally investing in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The telecommunications services and utilities industries can be significantly affected by government regulation, technology changes, intense competition, financing difficulties, supply and demand of services or of fuel, and natural resource conservation. Non-diversified funds that focus on a relatively small number of stocks tend to be more volatile than diversified funds and the market as a whole.

Fidelity Freedom® 2005 Fund Class K6

VRS Code: 002989

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Income Fund approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the fund will merge with the Freedom Income Fund. Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of investors. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10 percentage points for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Fund products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in or very near retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Fidelity Freedom® 2055 Fund Class K6

VRS Code: 002999

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Income Fund approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the fund will merge with the Freedom Income Fund. Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of investors. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10 percentage points for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Fund products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fidelity Freedom® Income Fund Class K6

VRS Code: 003001

Fund Objective: Seeks high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a stable "neutral" asset allocation strategy (approximately 11% in domestic U.S. equity funds, 8% in international equity funds, 43% in U.S. investment grade bond funds, 5% in international bond funds, 3% in long-term treasury bond funds, 20% in inflation-protected bond funds, and 10% in short-term funds) The Adviser may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10 percentage points for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: The fund is subject to risks resulting from the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The fund is subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments. Fixed income investments entail issuer default and credit risk, inflation risk, and interest rate risk (as interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall and vice versa). This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option and looking primarily for the potential for income and, secondarily, for share-price appreciation.
